you were born for
The dedicated moments you have with the people you care for
The devoted moments you have with your loving friends
The creative moments you have at your working day
It all depends on you

Direct your own life.
Make your own path which guides you to felicity.
Source the images that surround your world.
Create the environment to live in.
Complete this puzzle, its the condition
to create a unique moments.
Moments which are giving you the answer
Moments which don't need questions.

A luck of trust to the future.
A dull behaviour, to the social needs and ideals.
This is the ground on which al2 was blossomed.
A radical project.
A refusal to obedience and compromise.

A determined attempt to, reposition man in his main role along with his experiences, traditions and sole uniqueness.
A absolut no to the fatal passiveness feeding the dead-lock mentality.
al2 is a radical project, a hymn to creativity as an escape mode from crisis.

company profile

We live in times of globalization. We have open and easy access to the global market but we wonder where is the quality, what are the factors defining it and what are the products that stand out for their high quality level. al2 wants to be the ultimate answer to these questions. A team of optimistic people full with enthusiasm and dreams decided to create a new brand capable of offering the world, unique and high standard furniture. A remarkable and certified production unit with a successful history combined with awarded designers and the contribution of experienced executives with strong perception on the fields of international markets, marketing and communication composes the wonderful form of al2. No negotiations, no compromises! We felt the need to rethink furniture, restudy the use of it and reexamine the social environment that was meant to fit in. We wanted to rethink the materials, the level of safety they apply, wear out their capabilities and improve their environmental viability. We believe in design! Not as a doubtful make up of the product but as a targeted research and everyday expressions of a feeling and passion. These are the symptoms of an artistic concern that keeps as in touch with the world of creation. We are convinced that every contact with the world of design contributes to the maturation of a personal critic opinion and eventually adds to the effort for a better quality of life.
